

Orbico is the largest distributor and supply change management company in Europe, with business in 21 countries. More than 8000 employees contribute every day in delivering our 500 global and local brands across Europe.

Due to our expertise and wide range of solutions and services, Orbico business grew fast over the past decades. Now to support further our growth in Hungary, we are strengthening our digital team.

Have you gained experience in onsite merchandising? Do you want work with well-known global brands in an international environment? Do you want to be a part of our digital team and developing our brand-new platform?

If the answer is yes, our open position might be the next step in your career.

Now we are hiring for the position:

Product Information Specialist

Task:

- Creating and designing product information with co-divisions
- Procurement of product-related materials (images, descriptions, downloadable documents) from brand owners and sharing with our customers
- Managing product information management software
- Upload images and product information to the platform
- Optimize and design images for the platform
- Reporting product information
- Contacting and discussing with international PIM team
- Assessing the needs of divisions
- Reporting bugs, testing developments of the platform
- Active participation in developments and localization, knowledge sharing

Expectation:

- you have 1-2 years previous working experience in offline/online commercial
- using English on an advanced level is suitable for you
- using Microsoft Excel on an advanced level
- Higher education degree in IT or economics

What can you expect from us?

- · Home Office option
- · Dynamically growing, stable international company
- · Opportunity for continuous development; we also support your studies and language learning
- · Diverse work assignments as part of a vibrant, youthful team
- · Regular team building programs
- · Extensive benefits (provision of health services, cafeteria, bonus, laptop, mobile)